THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY MARCHING BAND

DR. JON R. WOODS ~ CONDUCTOR

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY MARCHING BAND

Dr. Jon R. Woods – Conductor
Jon Waters – Assistant Conductor
Brad Williamson & Tyler King
– Graduate Assistant Conductors
Gary Hodges – Percussion Instructor

“Hang on Sloopy” will be forever tied to The Ohio State University Marching Band as a rock classic that excites the football fans on a crisp autumn Saturday afternoon. We offer the name to title our new disc, “Hang on Sloopy Volume II.”

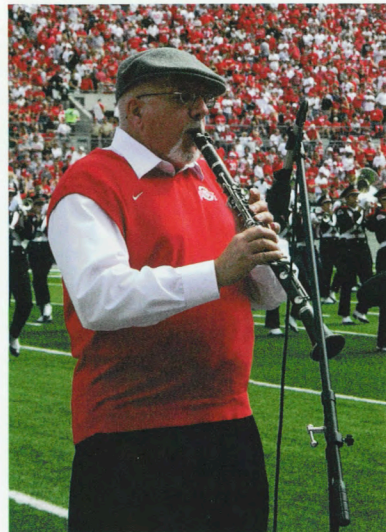

Packed with outstanding performances of big band standards, Grammy® award-winning songs, classical blockbusters, and TV / movie themes, this is a musical offering you’ll continue to enjoy for many hours. And of course, we have new recordings of your Buckeye favorites.

For this recording we’ve asked jazz vocalist Kristen Eubanks, jazz clarinetist Byron Rooker, fiddler Andy Carlson, and OSUMB member Chris Ott to “solo” with the ensemble. You’ll also find a unique version of “Chimes and Carmen Ohio.” The chimes were recorded in the Orton Hall bell tower and the band joins in a vocal performance of “Carmen Ohio.”

Lastly, we would like to thank Dr. Jon Woods for 25 years of unwavering spirit and devotion as the conductor of The Ohio State University Marching Band. Your band and associates have continued to bring innovation in both musical style and on-field marching skill to every performance. The “Buckeye Nation” wish you many more performances with The Ohio State University Marching Band!

Enjoy & Go Bucks!!

Ed Thompson / Producer for The Best Damn Band in the Land

Big band clarinetist Byron Rooker joined The Ohio State University Marching Band during the 2008 OSU / Minnesota game for Ken McCoy’s arrangement of “Let’s Dance.”

Jazz vocalist Kristen Eubanks performs our rendition of “As Time Goes By” at the 2008 OSU / Michigan game.
