“Time and Change” is the latest release in the long history of The Ohio State University Marching Band’s recordings, which date back to the year 1958. This collection features the music of the Band’s YouTube sensation, “A Tribute to Classic Video Games,” as well as a variety of many other musical offerings. From jazz to rock, from funk to classical, from Hollywood movie music to stirring patriotic favorites, and even the haunting sounds and rich sonority of Samuel Barber’s Adagio, this recording displays the versatility and talent of the outstanding students who breathe life into the music, on the football field and in the concert hall.

The title of this recording pays homage to the distinguished career of Dr. Jon R. Woods, Band Director from 1984 to 2011, and his many contributions to the “Tradition of Excellence,” that he fostered in every student who wore the uniform. And now, guided by the philosophy, “Tradition Through Innovation,” we celebrate the beginning of an exciting new chapter in the Band’s storied history. “Time and Change” will surely show, how firm thy friendship, O-HI-O!

We proudly dedicate this recording to President Emeritus Dr. E. Gordon Gee, who during his tenure set The Ohio State University on the path, “From Excellence to Eminence.” Each band member embodies that mantra, and strives to exude it in every performance. With each step we march and within each note we play, we will remain profoundly grateful for the spirit, the passion, and the love that E. Gordon Gee gave to The Ohio State University, and to the Marching Band. To our friend Dr. Gee, WE SALUTE YOU!

~ Jonathan N. Waters, Director

Squad Leaders Evan Greene and Zacke Naughton celebrate another Buckeye touchdown!

John & Annie Glenn honored at halftime on the occasion of the 50th Anniversary of Astronaut Glenn becoming the first American to orbit the earth.

"GAME OVER" formation puts the exclamation on the band's tribute to "Classic Video Games."
